THE 1950 SQUAW BUTTE SAGA

Published Annually

BY THE SENIORS OF EMMETT HIGH SCHOOL

Emmett, Idaho

Vol. 16

Foreword

The beginning of the half century—miracle drugs—split atoms—jet propulsion—multi-billion dollar budgets—1950. That's the world in which we live—a world spinning—changing so fast we must try to keep up—and yet we feel there is much of value here and now which we must not lose.

To keep apace we've brought you television. And to preserve that which is best about your year in school we've made for you a permanent record broadcast from station E. H. S.

Now and in the years to come, when you wish to recall the winner of the Armistice Day game—the band Sweetheart—the stars of the all-school play—the teacher of refresher math—the girl who loaned you pencils; pull up your easy chair, tune in station EHS and view this permanent television screen.

We hope that you will remember your school days as being as thrilling and profitable as the advent of television, and that this sixteenth volume of the Squaw Butte Saga will help to make them so.

Dedicated

For the dreams and visions they have fostered for us, for their patience and understanding, we dedicate this volume to our parents—to Mom, who always found time to help us with our lessons, to mend our clothes, and to give us a helpful inspiring word—to Dad, who turned on the light to look at the clock when we came in, who encouraged us to make our own way, but who, when the going was hard, always dug a little deeper into his pocket for the necessary cash. Most especially just because we're glad we're theirs, we dedicate this Squaw Butte Saga.

FLASH—Miss Peterson "did not see"—that is—she did not stop.

September 10	The presidents and vice-presidents meet to plan EHS broadcasts for the year.
September 21	An activity ticket feud begins among the coordinators, student council to you.
October 14	The cast relaxes as the vice-presidents attend school for a day at the District Teachers' meeting in Boise.
October 24	Mr. Smith gives a grand performance in choir—despite the fact that his socks don't match.
December 2	Stella Warr becomes a "Mrs." but remains with us to finish our telecast.
December 7	Student body officers and other student representatives attend the Snake River Valley student conference in Payette.
December 8	The vice-presidents go behind the scenes to untangle their nerves and to enjoy a faculty Christmas dinner.
January 6	Secretary Lola Kellerman, leaves us to join another network.
January 20	Mr. Harris catches up with the sophomore spelling.
January 26	We feature a new star in our show. Miss Gregory shows how NOT to get a sun-tan.
February 13	The Barberettes get a screen test. They perform at an administrators' dinner. Talent scout, Walter Smith, almost runs out of jokes as he stalls for time.
May ?	To conclude the year, the faculty leave the set to join the ticks and ants in a picnic.

Administrators

Emmett schools are fortunate in having a complete corps of administrators whose chief interest is the development of happy, well informed students prepared to play their parts in the events of tomorrow. They have worked to overcome the steadily increasing handicap of overcrowded classes and of inadequate classroom space and equipment.

They have taken time out to sponsor extracurricular activities and to play with us a bit on the side. Through their co-operation there exists in Emmett High a happy student-faculty relationship which promotes increasing interest in school life.

Mr. Carberry

Mr. Douglas

Kenneth Carberry

SUPERINTENDENT

Superintendent Kenneth Carberry might be likened to the president of the EHS broadcasting company. Patience, friendliness and leadership are only a few of the fine qualities which characterize our superintendent.

A former coach, Mr. Carberry displays a fine brand of sportsmanship and does much to encourage it in the student body. Though his daily schedule is crowded with administrative duties he can always find time to confer with students about their individual problems.

Donovan Douglas

PRINCIPAL

Principal Donovan Douglas must be the first vice-president of the company and he's one vice president with plenty to keep him busy. His is the job of seeing that the entire program functions smoothly and successfully. As adviser of the student council he has proved himself to be helpful, agreeable and good natured in all matters. In his office, whether it's a schedule change, figuring credits or issuing grade cuts, Mr. Douglas is always the source of helpful advice. Innumerable times he has helped us find properties and permitted us to broadcast from his office. Without him we'd have no pictures on our screen.

Board of Directors

The Board of Directors, or our school board, representing the stockholders has the stupendous task of reorganizing the entire company and of providing new buildings to accommodate the steadily increasing number of students. We're confident of their success.

Our community and especially Emmett schools suffered a great loss with the death of Walter C. Nichols, January 24. Mr. Nichols had served on the Emmett school board for fifteen years. His efforts were always directed toward the best interests of Emmett school children. In Mr. Nichols we lost one of our best friends.

Secretaries

Like every broadcasting company EHS has its efficient secretaries. They type our tests, take our money and record our grades. And, like all other secretaries, they get married. Stella Warr became Mrs. Moore, December 2. Stella continued working to help us through the year. Lola Kellerman gave us up when she married Eugene Gatfield, January 6. Rheta Rudd took Lola's place. Her picture appears on page 50.

Above, School Board: George Yost, David Little, George Speros, Gerhard Pook, Harry Lyons, Walter Nichols.

Below, Secretaries: Stella Warr Moore, Lola Kellerman Gatfield.

Faculty

Our Second Vice-Presidents In Charge of Programs

TONY ASCHENBRENER Much credit is due Coach Aschenbrener for our outstanding football and track teams this year. Although he received a "Cry Towel" he seldom had to use it. He teaches biology, boys' physical education and advises the "E" Club.

THELMA BENSON A newcomer to the EHS faculty this year is Miss Benson. Her charming personality has won her many friends. She teaches home making and advises F.H.A.

DONALD DALBERG Under the teachings of Mr. Dalberg, the American history classes have learned much about our country. His stories beginning, "When I was in the army . . ." have added many pleasant and amusing moments. He has also made our baseball and basketball teams famous.

ODETTA DUNN Miss Dunn teaches eighth grade arithmetic, literature and spelling. She has become a valuable asset not only to the eighth grade but to the entire faculty.

WALKER EDANS Mr. Edans, another newcomer to the Emmett faculty, teaches social science, literature and spelling and boys' physical education, to the eighth graders. This quiet fellow has discovered many new friends here in EHS.

VIRGINIA GARFIELD In addition to teaching English I and II, Mrs. Garfield is a junior class adviser. She made a big success of "The Little Minister," the junior class play. In the spring, she also helped with the junior-senior prom.

JEAN GREGORY A new member of the faculty is Miss Gregory. Her winning personality and her "Buick" have made her very popular. She teaches world history and girls' physical education. She finds time to be the freshman class adviser, too.

WARREN HARRIS This year, the sophomores have taken an imaginary trip around the world in their world geography class, under the able guidance of Mr. Harris. The debate team has also been successful under his leadership.

STANFORD HARRISON Experiments and explosions are some of the things that make chemistry, physics, and general science interesting. Mr. Harrison unravels many of the mysteries of science to his classes. He helped start the science club this year.

FERD HARUDA A friendly smile and a good sense of humor have made numerous friends for Mr. Haruda. He has done a splendid job with both the concert band and the pep band.

CYNTHIA JESNESS English 11 is a subject you enjoy when it is taught by Miss Jesness. She is kept busy advising the Pep Club and the senior class. Students will always remember her pep and enthusiasm at all the ball games.

MAY JUDD Mrs. Judd returned to Emmett High, this year as a teacher. She deserves much credit for the senior play, "Meet Me in St. Louie," presented this spring. She teaches health, civics, biology and typing 1.

LAURA KNOWLES The pecking of the typewriter keys by typing 1 and 2 students and the odd-looking characters made by the shorthand students, are due to the careful, patient instruction of Miss Knowles. She was responsible for the success of "January Thaw," last fall, and advises the Thespians and the junior class.

GRANT MAUCHLEY Another new member to the teaching staff, is Mr. Mauchley. He has done an outstanding job teaching the boys vocational agriculture. He is also F.F.A. adviser.

LUCILE PARSONS Miss Parsons is always ready and willing to help you—whether it is a problem in refresher arithmetic or sociology, a problem in speech, or to help the bookkeepers balance their books. In her spare time she advises N.F.L. and has charge of the declamation program.

EDITH PETERSON Deadlines for pictures—deadlines for stories—and deadlines for copy, are all made by Miss Peterson, annual and "Huskie News" adviser. She also explains the mysteries of algebra 1 and 2 and geometry problems, and teaches journalism.

Faculty

AGNES SMITH When you hear that Scottish brogue, you can usually find Miss Smith. She teaches English and literature and spelling to the eighth grade classes. Her pleasant smile and her understanding of the students' problems have made her an essential part of the eighth grade.

WALTER SMITH Mr. Smith deserves much credit for the fine orchestra, choir and glee club broadcasting from EHS this year. His careful, patient teachings have found many talented students. All Emmett music lovers have enjoyed the concerts given by these groups.

ALTON SWAN With the help of Mr. Swan, students find that woodcraft is interesting, as well as educational. He has taught his classes to make a number of useful things. The girls particularly like the hearts which come out of the shop.

DELIA SWAN Latin I and II may be difficult subjects but when Mrs. Swan is teaching, she makes them interesting and enjoyable. She solves many problems for the algebra I class, too. In addition, she is the Latin Club and sophomore class adviser.

CHARLOTTE SWATMAN "The more books—the better library," is Miss Swatman's theory. Under her supervision, our library is right up to date. Besides teaching English III and IV, she finds time to advise the National Honor Society and the senior class.

COORDINATORS IN CHARGE OF STAGING PLANS

It takes more than television stars to make a show just as it takes more than students to make a school. Behind these scenes are our hard-working student council. Headed by President Mary Anna Kirkpatrick, the council has promoted many projects, and has coordinated the efforts of students and faculty. They carried out the sportsmanship campaign and Junior Red Cross drive. The council decorated the halls at Christmas and sponsored noon dances which provided entertainment for everyone.

OFFICERS

CAST

"All the world's a stage,
And all the men and women merely players.
They have their exits and their entrances;
And one man in his time plays many parts."
—Shakespeare.

Newscast

September 12	The casts go on the air for the first broadcast of the year. Officers are elected to direct the show.
October 10	Class meetings are held in which we are told of the proposed activity ticket policy.
November 24	We have a brief station break as we go to work on the turkey.
December 20	If the next two days don't pass quickly, we're likely to break the screen.
December 22	At last! We can switch off the set and leave the broadcasting to Santa.
January 3	Back to school with resolutions to make this year's programs even better.
January 17	We do a great deal of adjusting and repairing our sets to get in tip-top shape for semester tests.
January 18	T-Day arrives—test day, that is.
January 19-20	More of the same.
April 6	Our set is badly run down. This spring vacation will give us time to make necessary repairs.
May 21	Seniors file soberly to baccalaureate.
May 23	We see the seniors receive their diplomas at the most thrilling broadcast of the year.
May 26	We close recording for three months while members of the cast seek new contracts.

Scholastic Honors

For the All-Star Cast of 1950

go to

Loreta Graves

VALEDICTORIAN

Sincere, gracious and dependable is Loreta Graves, our valedictorian. She is a two-year member of National Honor Society, an honorary member of Pep Club, and a member of the annual staff. She has also been in choir four years, is the district secretary of F.H.A. and is senior class secretary. Her excellent scholastic achievement has won her the high honor of being valedictorian of 1950.

Mary Anna Kirkpatrick

SALUTATORIAN

Beauty and brains go into the making of our salutatorian. Mary Anna has not only done a splendid job as student body president, but she has attained the scholastic goal to receive this special honor. She is a member of N.F.L., Pep Club, National Thespians, and F.H.A. She is a two-year member of the National Honor Society, is editor of the annual and was on the Huskie News staff. Her winning personality and friendly "Hello" have won her countless friends.

Spinning the Dial

Let us "flip" back the dial of our television set and glance at the screen to see our class in '46 make its debut as a freshman by winning the Frosh-Soph rally. The director of our cast was Melvin Alsager. Assistant director was Gene Bicandi with Rex Borup acting as script writer. Miss Margaret Odom was our guide through this—our green year.

As sophomores we again claimed the title of "Winner of the Frosh-Soph Rally." Our prompters were Rex Borup, Mary Anna Kirkpatrick, and Stanley Spoor with Miss Winifred Tovey and Tony Aschenbrener, advisers. We were proud when several members of our class became active in organizations and sports with Gene Bicandi and Phillip Jayo elected to the cheering section.

Juniors—we see ourselves with puffed chests now—what a class we were with the successful play, "We Shook the Family Tree," and the Junior Prom with its appropriate theme, "Lilac Time."

We were directed by Stanley Spoor, Robert Cruickshank, and Darlene Harrington, with Mrs. Virginia Garfield and Donald Dalberg, advisers.

Now, at last, we are on the screen in our present status. Seniors—the year of years. Our officers, Bill Despain, Ronnie Chadwick and Loreta Graves, with advisers Miss Charlotte Swatman and Miss Cynthia Jesness, have helped to make our last year in E.H.S. a glorious one.

The climax of our production at last! The screen shows our legal Sneak day—class rings—cards—announcements—pictures—caps and gowns.

It's a more serious picture now. As we march in long single files to our graduation there are hints of lumps in our throats. We realize now what wonderful opportunities EHS has offered us.

But the future looks bright. We shall go into the world insignificant at first, then in a short time, we shall find we have made progress, a place for ourselves in a bigger cast. This we could see if we could but turn the dial forward to the future.

Ready To Take Over Leading Roles

Into the spotlight on our screen come members of the class of '51. We hear them proclaim themselves upperclassmen whose honor it is to be "seated on the gym floor" during assembly programs.

With Tom Thayne as their president, they have sponsored many activities. Their highly successful Junior-Senior Prom was made possible through their expert salesmanship. They sold personalized stationery. Their class play, "The Little Minister," was a four-star production. All of their activities were made possible through the aid of the class television technicians, vice-president, Kenneth Huff; secretary, Donna Ziegler; treasurer, George Kiuchi; advisers, Mrs. Virginia Garfield and Miss Laura Knowles.

We have seen many members of this class appear on our television screen in the fields of sports, dramatics, social events and in musical groups. They are ready now for the final act of a four-year play filled with drama, comedy, adventure and romance.

Learn to Express Themselves: Start Stealing Show

Sophomores have spent the year in English II learning to express themselves in their appearances on EHS telecasts. For background material and atmosphere they have explored the four corners of the earth in world geography. They have done much research in mathematics and science. They won the Frosh-Soph Rally and more than once stole the show in dramatics, athletics and campustry. In all their activities they were ably led by their class officers.

ORGANIZATIONS

Telecast

October 28	For the first time station EHS has the pleasure of presenting the performance of the southwestern Idaho orchestra and choir clinic.
November 1	Our technicians "dollied in" to the principal's office and caught on our screen Mr. Douglas and the student body officers examining the books.
December 9	The music of Tommy Dorsey, Wayne King, and Benny Goodman is heard at the band concert.
December 21	Our Fred Waring performance. We thrill to the beautiful strains of sacred music at the A Cappella choir's annual candle-light service. Director Walter Smith is pleased.
January 5	The Ed Wynns in our group make their appearance at Thespian initiation.
February 8	National Honor Society announces fifteen Oscar winners.
February 16-17	Our music students leave the set to attend the Snake River Valley music clinic at Payette.
February 23	National Thespians and NFL dress up for formal initiation.
March 10	The annual staff sits back to enjoy the show. The copy is all in!
March 24-25	Future TV stars recite and orate at the district declamation festival.
March 27-28	At the district debate meet we hear our debaters answer the $64 question.
April 21-22	We sing and play our very best at the district music festival.

National Honor Society

Names EHS Oscar Winners

The most coveted "Oscar" awarded in the E. H. S. broadcasting company is an invitation to join the National Honor Society. Six of our graduating class became members a year ago. Advised by Miss Charlotte Swatman they have carried on the club activities for the year.

Active members were Bill Burt, president; Mary Anna Kirkpatrick, vice-president; Darlene Harrington, treasurer; Joy Elsberry, secretary; Loreta Graves, historian; Bethene Swartz, initiation chairman.

The big project is the raising of funds for the scholarship of fifty dollars which they give each year to the class salutatorian. To make money they have sold candy, class pins and senior announcements. Perhaps their most interesting project is the scrapbook in which are kept the pictures and clippings about "Oscar" winners since the organization of the society.

Fifteen students received invitations and were initiated this spring. Seniors were Bob Coleman, Marlene Carroll, Barbara Moulton, Joyce Choules, Junior Swisher, Rex Willis, Gene Hill, Muriel Harris, Beverly Gulick. Junior members were Ruth Johannesen, Jean Harris, Mary Salazar, George Kiuchi, Valene Bradshaw, Richard Jensen.

National Forensic League

Is 1950 Walkie Talkie

Members of the National Forensic League are really the Walkie-Talkies of E.H.S. It is its purpose to train the public speakers of our day, those who will be the radio announcers, comedians and orators. They will be instrumental in the progress of this comparatively new invention—television.

Station E.H.S. picked from the local chapter the most outstanding speakers to enter the district declamation and debate tournaments. Winners there went to the state tournament where they competed against other technicians in their field.

The Emmett chapter was host to the district declamation tournament. It has also provided entertainment for many community programs. It got off to a good start this year by winning first prize in the Jabberwock.

The N.F.L. has had a successful year under the leadership of Patsy Harpt, president; Darlene Harrington, vice-president; Shirley Harwell, secretary-treasurer; Miss Lucile Parsons, adviser.

The Thespians Form Screen Players' Guild

From The Thespians, our Screen Players' Guild, comes the talent for many of our broadcasts. Actors and actresses belonging to this group directed, produced and managed the all-school play, "January Thaw." They won second place in the Jabberwock with their original skit, Barbara Moulton is president of the group and Miss Laura Knowles the adviser. Bill Despain is vice-president, Connie Brookins, secretary-treasurer.

Seasoned troupers Become National Thespians

These are the individuals who have done outstanding work on the stage or in production. After collecting twenty points they became eligible for National Thespian membership.

They held a joint initiation with the new N.F.L. members at a formal dinner in the spring.

DEBATE

STANDING: Junior Swisher, Robert Wills, Bob Coleman, Bill Despain, Mr. Harris.

SEATED: Nola Kent, Shirley Harwell, Patsy Harpt, Darlene Harrington.

Debate Provides $64 Question

One of the most interesting programs on our screen has been that of our debaters. Throughout the year they have discussed the 64-Dollar question—Resolved: That the President of the United States should be elected by direct vote of the people.

Under the direction of Warren Harris they had an active year including practice days on Wednesday, practice meets at Nampa and Emmett, and the district tournament in Fruitland. One of the high lights of the season was the western division N.F.L. debate tournament in Blackfoot.

Declamation Furnishes Talent for Telecast

Declamation furnishes a variety of talent for our television broadcasts. Amateurs are being trained in the fields of poetry, dramatic reading, humorous reading, oratory, essay, after-dinner speaking, and radio speaking. Those who won in the district tournament are the professionals ready for the talent scout.

Among their activities declamation students took part in a practice meet at Nampa, the district tournament at home, the state tournament at Filer, and the N.F.L. meet in Blackfoot. With Miss Lucile Parsons as adviser, the year has been filled with activities.

ROW THREE: A. Jenkins, M. Kirkpatrick, J. Wilfong, C. Poole, P. Farnsworth, J. Swisher, R. Chadwick, B. Coleman, L. Ragains, S. Harwell, Miss Parsons, D. Harrington.

ROW TWO: V. Whiteley, S. Owens, N. Kent, R. Hendrickson, R. Willits, M. Collier.

ROW ONE: R. Wills, J. Choules, M. Harris, V. Dewey, I. Woodward, C. Bills, L. Scybert, R. Willis.

Senior Band

One of the biggest and most colorful bands on our T V screen got its start in Emmett High School where it played for assemblies, games, rallies, and sponsored the Jabberwock. Under the direction of Ferd Haruda it played everything from classical music to swing and it has provided many hours of pleasure with its evening concerts.

In the district Honor Band this year were Connie Brookins, Pete Farnsworth, Beverly Bingham, Melvin Curtis, Marlene Carroll.

No EHS Program
Complete Without

Orchestra

Television programs are not complete without music and no EHS program is complete without the background provided by our orchestra. Right now it may be called a "little symphony orchestra" but under the direction of Walter Smith it is growing by leaps and bounds. Their most important appearance is in their own spring concert but we also enjoy their music at plays and at baccalaureate and commencement.

Choir

Candlelight Service Wins Much Praise

In the Emmett High we don't watch Fred Waring's television show. Instead, we tune in on our own Choir directed by Walter Smith. Their most impressive program was the Christmas Candlelight service which won them much praise. They have been busy all year attending music festivals and clinics. The S.W.I. Orchestra-Choir Clinic was held in Emmett.

Discipuli Linguae Latinae

Picture Roman Customs

Our television camera took us back to the days of Caesar, when on October 17, the Latin Club held its annual banquet. Many appetizing Roman foods were served by the initiates who wore the traditional initiation tunics.

By serving at the banquet the slaves bought their freedom and were permitted to wear their togas the next day as a sign of membership.

"Amatores Linguae Latinae" or Lovers of the Latin language chose Mary Salazar for president; Margaret Guy, vice-president; Junior Swisher, secretary-treasurer; Esther Moeller, reporter and historian. Mrs. Delia Swan is adviser.

In the top picture we see club members seated around the banquet table while a slave, Karl Cayford, stands behind to serve

Future Homemakers of America

Study Practical Roles

According to an old adage "We may live without friends; we may live without books; but civilized men cannot live without cooks." So the Future Home Makers of America will surely have their place on the television screens of tomorrow and the Emmett chapter, directed by Miss Thelma Benson, has had a big place in the activities of Emmett High this year. To prepare themselves for more important roles they have spent much time learning modern-up-to-date methods of homemaking.

Leading the group "Toward New Horizons" was President Violet Rae Dewey. Working with her were Ruth Johannesen, vice-president; Loreta Graves, secretary; Jean Harris, treasurer.

This willing group of girls helped swell their treasury by sponsoring a box social with the F.F.A., by selling milk in the study hall at noons, and by serving at the Sweetheart Ball.

Among the outstanding social events were the candle-light initiation, and the April dance in which an F.H.A. queen and an F.F.A. king were crowned. Violet Rae Dewey attended the Third Regional F.H.A. meeting in Santa Barbara, California, last June.

Future Farmers of America

Hope to Fill Breadbaskets of World

The Future Farmers of Ameria want to keep your television screens of the future as happy as they are today. That is a big project because it means filling the breadbaskets of the world. Hungry people are unhappy people. Hunger would bring unhappy pictures to your screen.

The F.F.A. boys study modern methods of farming and soil conservation in order to produce food without depleting the natural resources of the land.

The local chapter has had a successful year under the leadership of a new instructor, Grant Mauchley.

Judging teams have taken part in many contests. Last spring Jesse Beckman, Darrel Sawyer, Bill Burt and Clyde Poole attended a meet in Moscow with their former adviser, Wilbur Holderread. They placed third.

On the team judging at the State Fair were Clarence Tilley, Grant Gifford and Richard Jensen. A swine judging team, Clyde Poole, John Wilfong and Don Stevenson, placed fourth at a contest held in Caldwell in February.

The Parent and Son Banquet this spring was one of their big projects. The boys also put on a box social in co-operation with the F.H.A. last fall. During the summer they entered a float in the Cherry Festival parade.

Thirty-one Green Hands were initiated and eighteen members received the Charter Farmer degree.

The two top pictures were taken of the boys working in farm shop.

Below are the chapter members.

Annual Staff

Records 1950 Telecast From Station EHS

"Hope you like it" is the wish of every member of the production staff of this 1950 Squaw Butte Saga. It is with great pride that we present this televised record of the school year to you.

We've worked hard and we did get a little tired carrying lights and benches, and shouting "Lights —camera—one—two—don't chew." But we would not have missed it.

Write-ups and typing can be credited to Mary Anna Kirkpatrick, editor, Loreta Graves, Joy Elsberry, Elda Morfin and Beverly Gulick. Photographers, Bill Burt and Robert Wills, turned the old faithful camera into a television lens to give you pictures on the screen. Business Manager Robert Cruickshank and Bill Burt set an all-time high for ad sales.

The salesmen did an outstanding job of selling books too. Top honors go to Gene Bicandi with Mary Anna Kirkpatrick and Robert Cruickshank almost tied for second. Robert was ahead on a technical count.

Someone always has to do the "panning," check on the interference and remember last minute "gizmos." That's been the job of Miss Edith Peterson, adviser. To her we say "Thanks a million."

Many other students and teachers gave us valuable help. We want to thank all of you, and again "We hope you like it."

Huskie News Is Official Paper For TV Company

The Huskie News is our official newspaper. It comes out every two weeks although it has been known to be late. And there are times when the staffs manage an extra or two.

Between deadlines the two staffs are busy writing stories, copyreading and stenciling. And usually, just before a deadline, the mimeograph loses its bearings. In addition to news, many features, editorials, and other forms of entertainment are provided by editors, Elva Garner, Barbara Moulton, and their staffs.

It should be added that the Huskie News is more than generous in its financial support of the annual.

Custodians

Keep Set Shining

The EHS television set has been kept shining by Mr. Elsberry and the efficient custodians at the left. Standing are T. Bills, R. Favinger, G. McQuilkin, E. Christison. Seated are C. Samson, F. Johnson and Mr. Elsberry.

Librarians

File Scripts

No broadcasting company is complete without its library. In our library, there are approximately 4400 scripts filed away for the use of the cast.

Thirteen librarians, supervised by Miss Charlotte Swatman, are kept busy finding these scripts, as well as furnishing reading material for those who have leisure time.

Office Girls

Keep Records

The complexities of modern business necessitates the keeping of many records. There must be checks and counter checks on our attendance at rehearsals and broadcasts, and on our ratings —"Hooper" and otherwise. The secretaries pictured at the left do our office work.

Standing are Joy Elsberry, RoLayne Rich, Rheta Rudd, Joan Walker, Darlene Beutler, Colleen Goodwin. Seated are Marylene Little, Belva Ward, Darlene Harrington, Beulah White, Carol Smith, Arlene Stroud.

Football

The 1950 Huskie gridiron show was better than pre-season expectations. Coached by Tony Aschenbrener they took six wins and dropped only two games. The two losses came in successive games when several top men were on the injury list.

The Huskies won from the Caldwell Cougars for the first time since these two teams have been scheduling games together. Fans had another surprise when Emmett upset the Jerome Tigers, leaders in the Big Ten in south central Idaho.

Coach Aschenbrener and his assistants, Don Dalberg and Art Wittenberger, did a fine job making a team almost from scratch. Relying on speed in the backfield the Huskies made most of their touchdowns by long runs from the single and double wing formation.

The season opened September 9 at the S.R.V. Jamboree in Ontario and closed with the Armistice Day game in Weiser.

Borup

Cruickshank

REX BORUP—Center, co-captain and three-year letterman, Rex received the annual player award. He was named on the second team of SRV All-Stars, an outstanding athlete in leadership, sportsmanship and ability. A great competitor.

ROBERT CRUICKSHANK—Left halfback, co-captain and four-year letterman, named on the first team in SRV All Stars. The speedy little halfback led the Emmett ball carriers in scoring with 10 touchdowns. He proved to be one of the best in SRV football and equally as effective in his defensive halfback role.

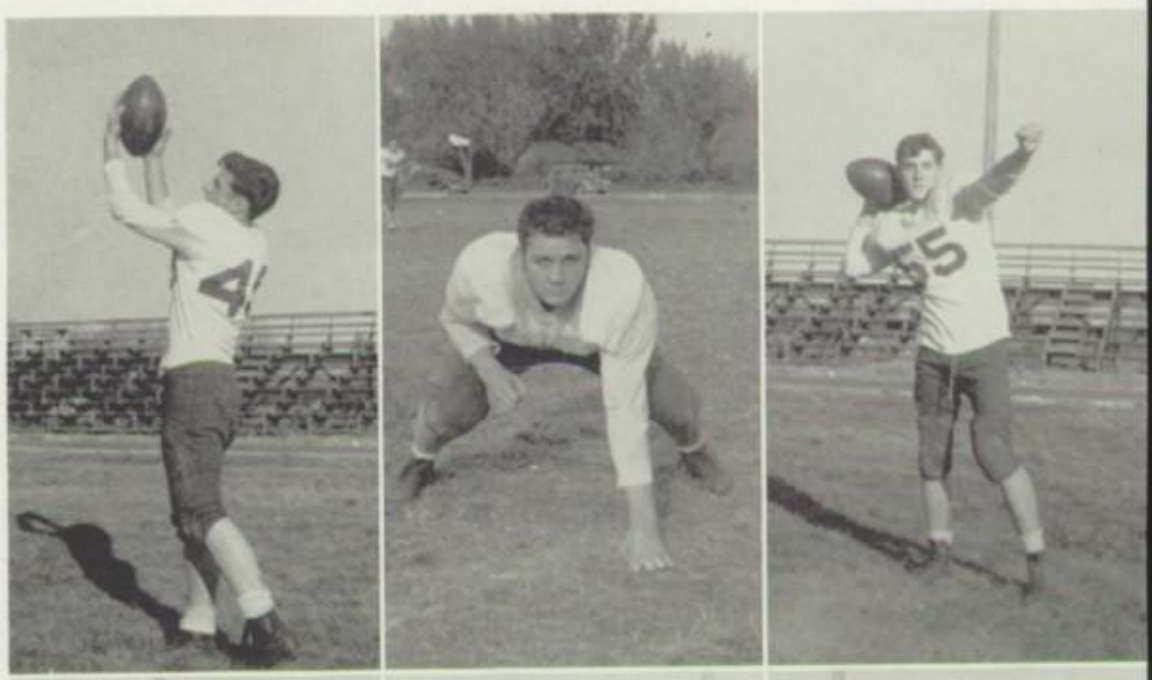
Coburn
Giles

Buck
B. Despain
Johnson

Chadwick
Douglas
Nasker



MELVIN ALSAGER—End, three-year letterman. He received honorable mention in SRV All Stars. He was a fine blocker, pass receiver and ball carrier on the end around play. A good team player and consistent defensive end.

JERRY BUCK—Guard, two-year letterman, first team SRV All Stars. He was one of the top linemen in the conference offensively and defensively. A fine team player always ready for tough assignments.

RONNIE CHADWICK—Fullback, one-year letterman, second team SRV All Stars. He ranked second in scoring for the Huskie ball carriers. He played his best against Caldwell. His 63-yard punt return against Vale was the deciding factor for victory.

JOE COBURN—Tackle, two-year letterman, second team SRV All Stars. The opposition found the big Huskie tackle a tough individual to handle. Big Joe was a steady player who liked rough competition.

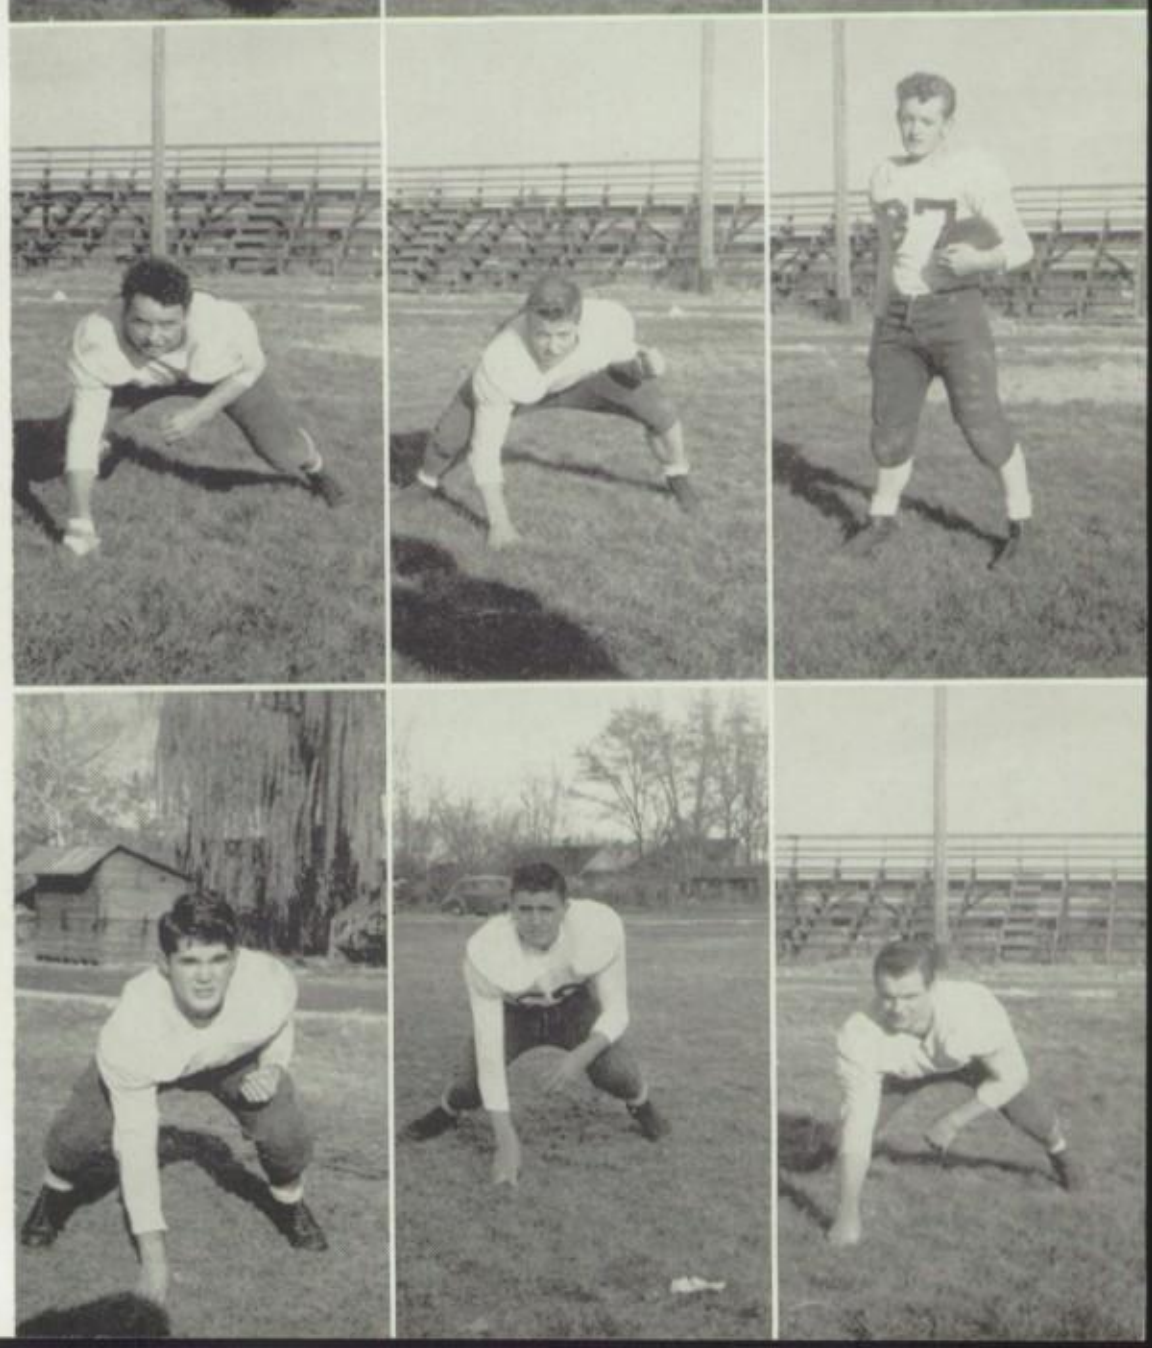
BILL DESPAIN—Guard, three-year letterman, honorable mention SRV All Stars. He performed ably against all opposition. The chunky guard was an important factor in Emmett's gridiron victories.

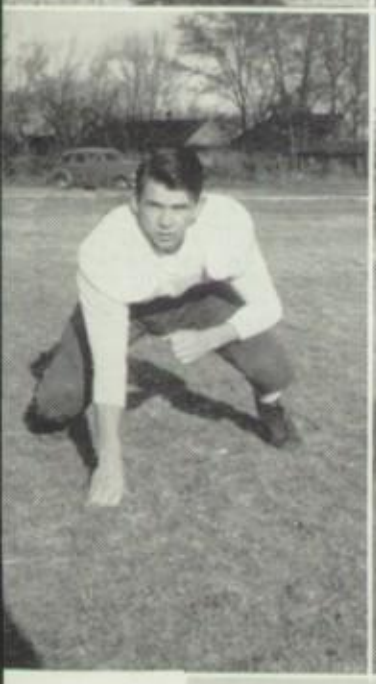
DON DOUGLAS—Right halfback, two-year letterman. The stubby right halfback was a driving, dependable player in all games and on the practice field. Much credit for the success of the team is due to him.

DON GILES—Guard, two-year letterman, handicapped part of the season by knee injuries. He was shifted from quarterback to guard at mid season and rapidly developed into a capable performer on offense and defense.

WILLIS JOHNSON—End, one-year letterman, honorable mention in SRV All Stars. Playing his first year of varsity ball for the Blue and White, Willie turned in fine performances both on offense and defense.

JERRY NASKER—Tackle, three-year letterman, honorable mention in SRV All Stars. The big quiet tackle developed into one of Emmett's top linemen. He played an important part in Cruickshank's off-tackle touchdown runs.





Football

DAVE COFIELD—Center, two-year letterman, honorable mention in SRV All Stars. He played rugged, determined football from his defensive line-backer position. When teamed with Borup they formed a great combination in stopping the opposition's offense.

FRANK DESPAIN—Left halfback, two-year letterman. In his second year of varisty competition Frank proved his value to the team in being a good competitor in games and on the practice field. An excellent runner, able to follow his interference for long gains.

RAY MULLINS—Fullback, one-year letterman. The lightest player on the squad, very deceptive in his ball handling, faking, and running. He was the team's best passer, a great competitor and good defensive ball player.

TOM THAYNE—Tackle, three-year letterman, starting tackle until sidelined with a broken ankle received in the Nyssa game. His loss was greatly felt in the remaining games. Tom will be back next year to play great ball for the Huskies.

Basketball

Here's the Huskie basketball club of 1950. They and Coach Dalberg had a rough time of it. They changed from hot to cold and vice versa so often the fans couldn't keep up. They finished pre-tournament play with a record of eleven wins and eleven losses.

In Snake River Valley competition they won nine and lost seven. They split games with Boise and Caldwell and lost their lone encounter with the unbeatable Bulldogs of Nampa.

Just before the tournament Gene Bicandi was elected captain.

Whooper-Uppers

Emmett High's cheer leaders have been more than cheer leaders this year, we'll call them "Whooper-Uppers." They accomplished the impossible. They had a better cheering section for a losing team than is often seen out to cheer for a winning team. They pepped up old yells and wrote snappy new ones.

It's time to say congratulations and fifteen for Barbara, Bob, Mabel, and Ben.

The junior varisty leaders were also good and they'll do better. And it should go on record that the Pep Band members paid their own way into two different tournament games in order to be on hand to support the Blue and White.

BACK: Chadwick, Buck, Borup, Cofield.
FRONT: Douglas, Mullins, Bicandi, Alsager.

"E" Club

Promotes Interest In Athletics

To encourage more interest in the field of athletics and to promote a spirit of sportsmanship among students is the purpose of this letterman's club. Boys who have made a letter in any one of the four major sports are eligible for membership.

The club usually sponsors two major activities during the year, a dance and a carnival. At the dance a queen is presented. She is selected for her athletic record, her scholastic record, her leadership and personality.

Girls' Athletic Association

Our TV sportscaster gives the news and views of the EHS Girls' Athletic Association for this year 1949-50.

Elected to preside over the association was Arlene Stroud, with Mary Lou Crouch, vice-president; Darlene Howard, secretary, and Joan Walker, treasurer; completing the roster. Gail Robbins became the volleyball manager and Shirley Patrick acted as basketball manager.

This organization, composed of the feminine vim, vigor, and vitality of EHS, has sponsored many successful activities under the direction of Miss Jean Gregory, adviser.

On the evening of December 10, the gym was transformed into a "Dreamer's Holiday" by these girls which meant the annual Spinster Skip. It was another outstanding success. Rex Borup, popular senior football co-captain, was crowned king. Following the coronation was the grand march led by the king and Donna Ziegler.

The rest of the year was full with evening practice, selling at games, and the annual play day at Caldwell on February 18.

THIRD ROW: Joan Dunn, Gail Robbins, Norreen Mortensen, Shirley Brubaker, Alice Pederson, Sharon Harwell, Alene Spencer, Joan Walker, Doris Woodward, Barbara Oberg, Barbara Moulton, Lillian Kiuchi.

SECOND ROW: Joan Poston, Grace Toliver, Mary Evelyn Nikirk, Marjorie Eisenbeiss, Coleen Graves, Cecile Flowers, Enid St. Germain, Barbara Pook, Louella McDowell, Eldene Fowler, Gloria Himes, Arlene Stroud, Sally Rae Woodruff.

SCHOOL LIFE

Telecast

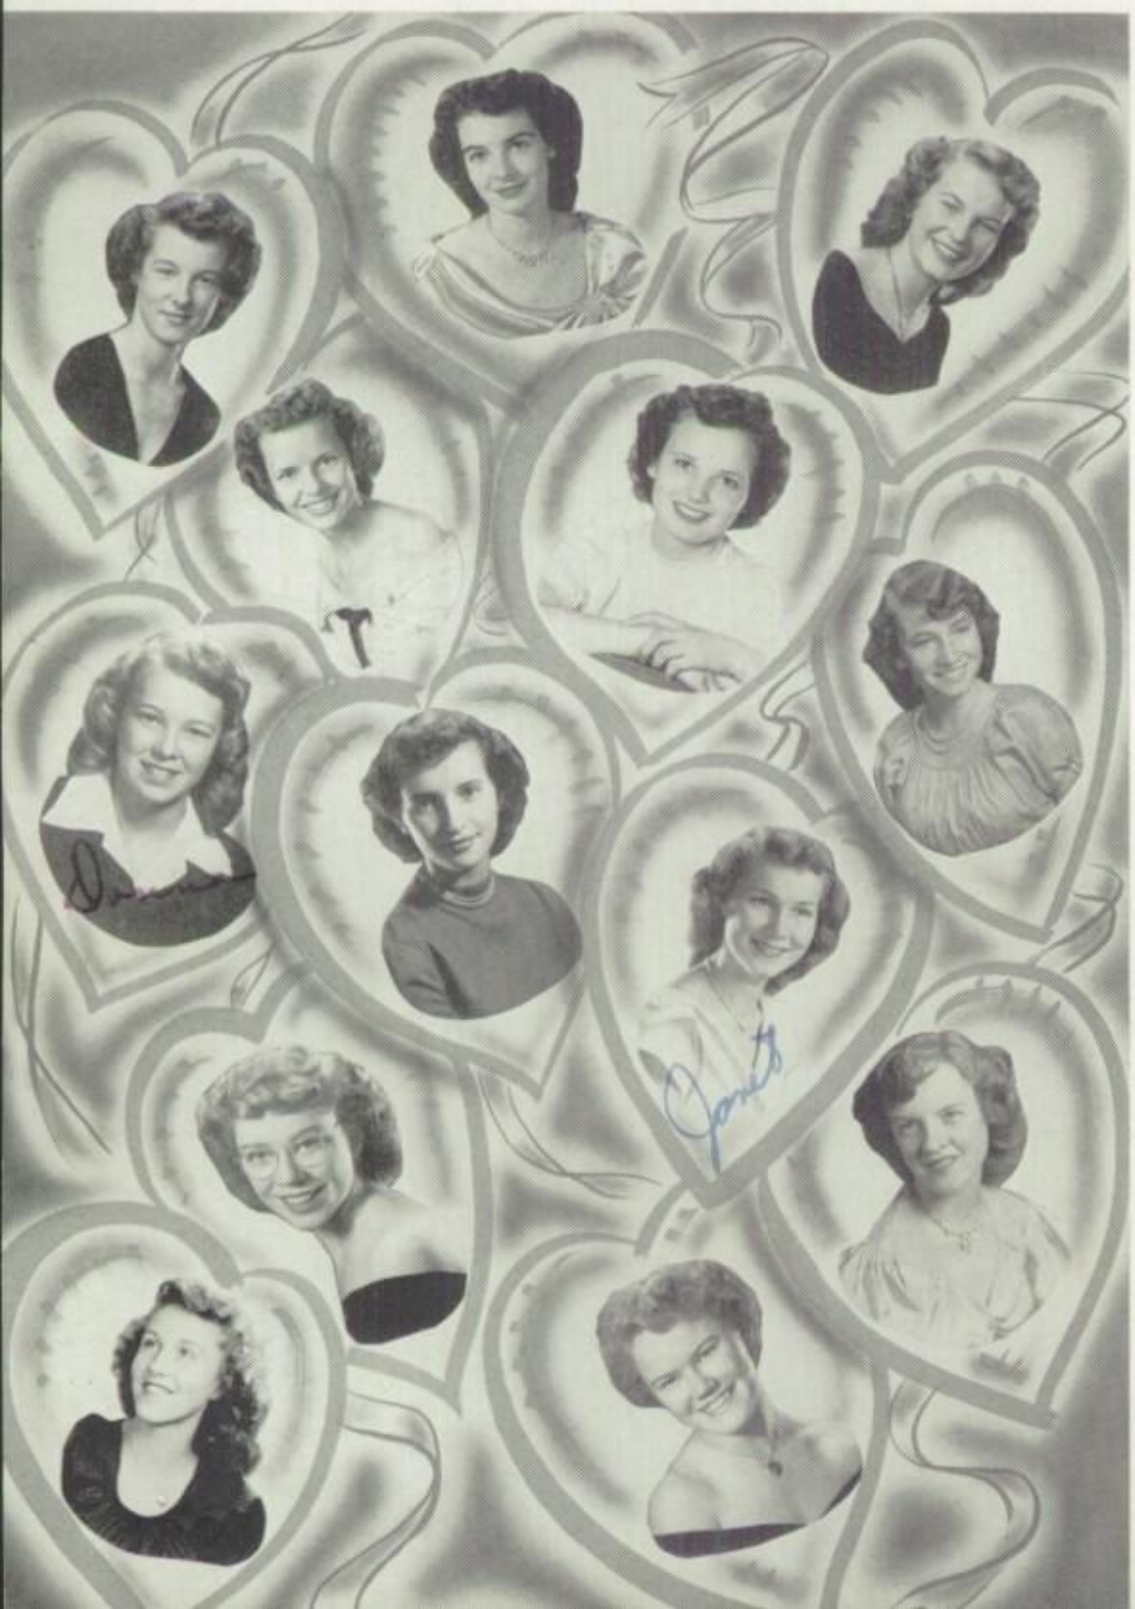
October 4	Many of the girls appear with new glasses to help them see the set more clearly.
October 7	Coach Aschenbrener is presented with a "cry-towel."
October 20	We enjoy delicious food and hear our musical groups perform at the Music Boosters' Harvest dinner.
November 4	The all-school play "January Thaw" presents live talent on our screen in a hilarious comedy.
November 17-18	A variety of entertainment is presented at the Jabberwock sponsored by the band.
December 2	The juniors present "The Little Minister" as their class play. A recorded picture is on your screen right now.
December 5	False signs of spring! The boys appear minus hair. Bulldog haircuts, of course.
December 10	Girls snag their man and come to the Spinster Skip. Rex Borup was crowned King.
December 22	The gym is turned into a "White Christmas" by the band and Mary Anna Kirkpatrick is named Band Sweetheart of the year. Our camera man picked up some really good pictures.
January 27	The debaters sponsor a variety program featuring talent we didn't know existed.
March 6	Hamlet gets us out of school and we come out of the show muttering, "To be—or not to be."
March 10	The Thespians give their annual dance. The gym was made into a fantastic candy land to carry out the theme, "Candy."
March 17	A Friday night with no activity scheduled for station EHS—T V.
April 10	Too much interference by the weatherman. Cast succumbs to an attack of spring fever.
May 10	We eagerly turn the dial of our sets. The annuals have arrived!
May ?	No noise on the set today. The seniors "snuck."

Sweetheart Ball

Brings Thirteen Stars To EHS—TV Screen

Bill Barrett M. Kirkpatrick

Mary Anna Kirkpatrick
Mary Lou Crouch, Barbara Moulton, Colleen Goodwin, Shirley Butler, Donna White, Joan Bremmer, Janet Campbell, Dixie Kroush, Darlene Howard, Ann Giles, Shirley Patrick, Janeen Jacobs.



Turning our dial back to December 22, we see thirteen lovely stars appearing on our television screen. They are Shirley Patrick, Dixie Kroush, Ann Giles, Janeen Jacobs, Darlene Howard, Donna White, Janet Campbell, Shirley Butler, Joan Bremmer, Colleen Goodwin, Barbara Moulton, Mary Anna Kirkpatrick, and Mary Lou Crouch, the sweetheart candidates for 1949.

The gym was appropriately decorated with giant stars, Christmas trees and snow to carry out the theme of "White Christmas."

During the floor show, the spotlight focused on Mary Anna Kirkpatrick, who was named EHS Band Sweetheart of 1949. Bill Barrett, band president, presented her with a gold locket on which was inscribed, "Band Sweetheart of 1949."

A Bird's-Eye View of the Ball

All-Star Cast Presents

"January Thaw"

"January Thaw" by Bellamy Partridge was the hilarious comedy selected by our Screen Players' Guild and their director, Miss Laura Knowles, for the all-school play presented November 5.

A real January thaws out no more reluctantly than did the Mr. Gage thaw out toward the Rockwoods.

The story concerned the Gage family who sought peace and quiet by buying for their home a deserted farmhouse. To their consternation the previous owners, Jonathan and Mathilda Rockwood, came back to live in their old home. "They didn't sell it." A battle for possession followed with neither family succceeding in turning the other out.

Jonathan brought back the old cow and staked her on Mr. Gage's new front lawn. Later he held an old friend's funeral in the front room. Mathilda persistently objected to the soft carpets on the stairs.

A January blizzard followed by a powerline failure left both families stranded. The Gage's modern conveniences were useless. They were practically freezing while they ate cornflakes, molasses and olives for breakfast.

The old fashioned Rockwoods were comfortable and well-fed with their woodburner and home cured hams. Mrs. Rockwood's biscuits finally broke Father down and the play had a delightful ending.

We have permanently fixed on our screen Barbara Moulton and Bob Coleman as Mathilda and Jonathan Rockwood and Robert Cruickshank as their son Matt. Robert Peterson as Uncle Walter impressed us with his "swallowin' days" and his "spittin' days."

Each member of the Gage family was delightful—Larry Oberg as Mr. Gage and Mary Mansfield, his wife—the three daughters Barbara, Sarah and Paula, played by Mary Jane Collier and Connie Brookins, Darlene Baldwin. Rex Willis as the boy friend and Donna Ziegler the maid helped to complete the picture.

No play could be worked out without the local constabulary and a lawyer. These parts were taken by Robert Wills, Bob Speros and Bill Despain.

B. Coleman, R. Cruickshank, B. Moulton, R. Peterson.

TOP: R. Wills, B. Speros, B. Despain.
BELOW, STANDING: D. Ziegler, D. Baldwin, C. Brookins, R. Willis.

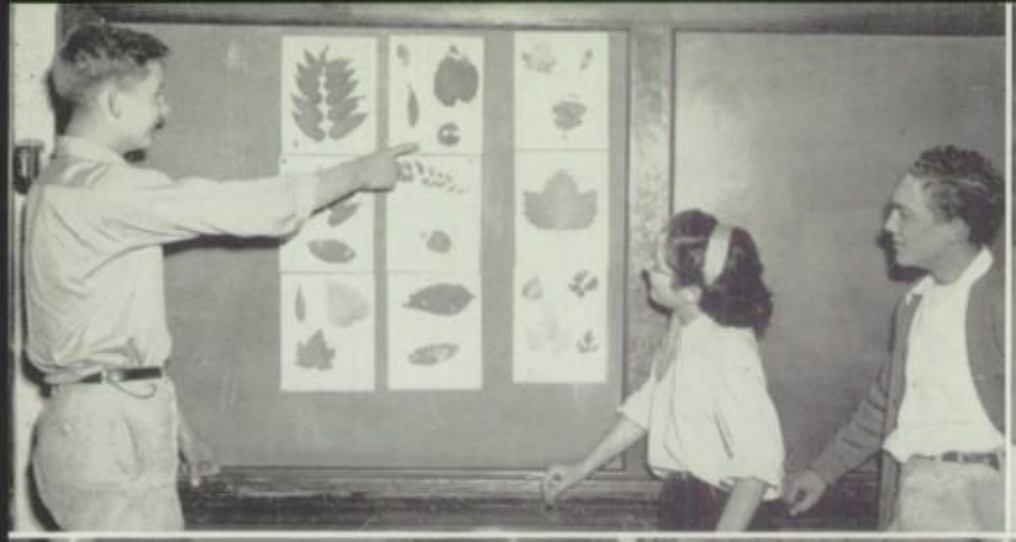
Junior Class Brings to TV Audience

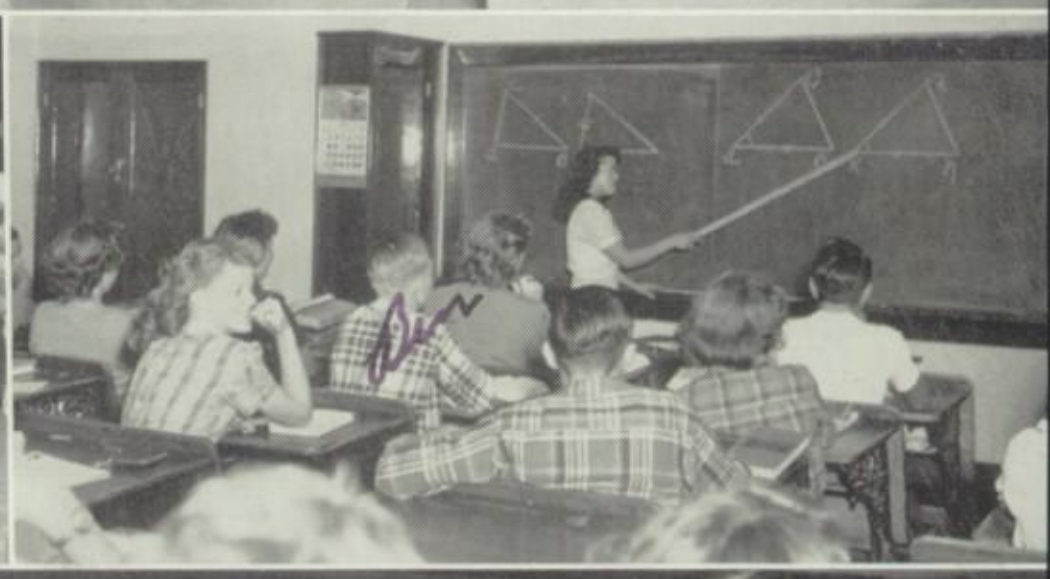
"The Little Minister"

The EHS T V Company is proud to present for the first time on television a Main Street production of "The Little Minister." The play was dramatized for the stage by Roland Fernand from the novel by James M. Barrie.

Outstanding in this play were the stage settings and the costumes. The fire place was a work of art. Many priceless antiques added beauty and authenticity to the set. Mrs. Virginia Garfield directed the production.

Jean Harris and Gene McCoy co-starring as Babbie and Gavin, the little minister, gave fine performances. Their supporting cast was just as fine. Congratulations go to the director, the cast and production staff.





Demonstrations for the Vice Presidents

Darrell Rudd, Berniece Buzzard and Bill Tyler act interested in Darrell's leaf collection.

Mr. Harrison's new vacuum pump gets its picture taken.

Iris Rindlisbach, RoLayne Rich, Robert Wills and Frank Despain take part in a Round Table discussion in English IV.

Typing students try not to watch the camera man.

Biology students study ants.

Iris Rindlisbach demonstrates a geometry theorem.

Speech students study problems of grease paint.

Dale Thomas displays a collection of birds' eggs in biology class.
